Re: Letter of appreciation and gratitude

Dear Bruce,

On behalf of JAARS, I want to say thank you.

Your vision and determination to create and build Brigade Air was used by God to light a fire under JAARS and mission aviation in general. You caused us to see the importance and value of connecting the next generation to what God was and is doing in furthering His kingdom work through mission aviation. Thank you!

Determination is an understatement, Bruce. Your example of relentlessly pursuing what God called you to do will be a long-lasting testimony of how one who is called by God should commit to and follow that call, so again thank you.

The spark, now a fire, which you helped ignite is burning brighter than it had in the past. I know this could come as a bit of a surprise to you, since historically, we have been slow to respond to what you had been seeing for many years. Battleships vs jet skis. But again thank you for staying with us during the turning of the battleship.

JAARS is committed to carry on what you, through Brigade Air, started many years ago. We believe now more than ever that flight camps are and should be a tool in connecting the next generation with who God is and what He is doing through mission aviation around the world. We are committed to helping build a bridge from the first contact to their field of service. We look forward to seeing how God will continue to use you and your visionary gifts, and the camps that you started, for HIS glory.

Sincerely,

Craig Russell
